-They had this laughably primitive way of interpreting dreams.

-A Fingo-2 would've answered.

-They couldn't afford even that.

-What's afford?

-They depended on something called money. Nothing supplied like it is here.

-Did they all have it?

-Some did, and kept it away from the others. Lots of horrible anxiety!
Which led to loving it.

-How sick! I heard of a being in Sector 19 loving another.

-What was done?

-Not a thing. Its own punishment.
